

Labour-Intensive Industrialization in Global History

Edited by Gareth Austin and Kaoru Sugihara

Contents

Notes on contributors	xi
Preface	xiv
1 Introduction	1
GARETH AUSTIN AND KAORU SUGIHARA
2 Labour-intensive industrialization in global history: an interpretation of East Asian experiences	20
KAORU SUGIHARA
3 The industrious revolutions in East and West	65
JAN DE VRIES
4 Proto-industrialization and labour-intensive industrialization: reflections on Smithian growth and the role of skill intensity	85
OSAMU SAITO
5 Labour-intensity and industrialization in colonial India	107
TIRTHANKAR ROY
6 Labour-intensive industrialization in the rural Yangzi Delta: late imperial patterns and their modern fates	122
KENNETH POMERANZ
7 From peasant economy to urban agglomeration: the transformation of 'labour-intensive industrialization' in modern Japan	144
MASAYUKI TANIMOTO

8	Government promotion of labour-intensive industrialization in Indonesia, 1930–1975	176
	PIERRE VAN DER ENG
9	Labour intensity and manufacturing in West Africa, c.1450–c.2000	201
	GARETH AUSTIN
10	‘Colonial’ industry and ‘modern’ manufacturing: opportunities for labour-intensive growth in Latin America c.1800–1940s	231
	COLIN M. LEWIS
11	Labour-intensive industrialization: the case of nineteenth-century Alsace	263
	MICHEL HAU AND NICOLAS STOSKOPF
12	Labour-intensive industrialization and global economic development: reflections	280
	GARETH AUSTIN
	Index	303