

Contents

List of Tables	vii
Acknowledgements	viii
Notes on Contributors	ix
1. Introduction: Volunteers, War, and the Nation since the French Revolution Christine G. Krüger and Sonja Levsen	1
2. Volunteers of the French Revolutionary Wars: Myths and Reinterpretations Thomas Hippler	23
3. For the Fatherland? The Motivations of Austrian and Prussian Volunteers during the Revolutionary and Napoleonic Wars Leighton S. James	40
4. Polish Volunteers in the Napoleonic Wars Ruth Leiserowitz	59
5. Fág an Bealeagh : Irish Volunteers in the American Civil War Michael Hochgeschwender	78
6. “A Race That Is Thus Willing To Die For Its Country”: African-American Volunteers in the Spanish-American War 1898 Matthias Speidel	92
7. British and Imperial Volunteers in the South African War Stephen M. Miller	109
8. Welcome but Not That Welcome: The Relations between Foreign Volunteers and the Boers in the Anglo-Boer War of 1899–1902 Fransjohan Pretorius	122

9.	Heroes or Citizens? The 1916 Debate on Harvard Volunteers in the “European War” Axel Jansen	150
10.	Voluntary Enlistment in the Great War: a European Phenomenon? Alexander Watson	163
11.	Paramilitary Volunteers for Weimar Germany’s “ Wehrhaftmachung ”: how Civilians were attracted to serve with Irregular Military Units Rüdiger Bergien	189
12.	Fighting for God, for Franco and (most of all) for Themselves: Right-Wing Volunteers in the Spanish Civil War Judith Keene	211
13.	From the Nazi Party’s Shock Troop to the “European” Mass Army: The Waffen-SS Volunteers Jean-Luc Leleu	231
14.	An Approach to the Social Profile and the Ideological Motivations of the Spanish Volunteers of the “Blue Division”, 1941–44 Xosé-Manoel Núñez Seixas	248
15.	Women in Combat: Female Volunteers in British Anti-Aircraft Batteries in the Second World War Jutta Schwarzkopf	275
	Index	291