

Content

Stefan Rinke and Kay Schiller
Introduction	9

Conceptualizations

David Goldblatt
Another Kind of History: Globalization, Global History and the World Cup	15
Alan Tomlinson
FIFA: Beginnings, Tensions, Trajectories	30

Pre-War World Cups

Stefan Rinke
Globalizing Football in Times of Crisis: The First World Cup in Uruguay in 1930	49
Marco Impiglia
1934 FIFA World Cup: Did Mussolini Rig the Game?	66
Paul Dietschy
The 1938 World Cup: Sporting Neutrality and Geopolitics, or All-Conquering Fascism?	85

World Cups between Tradition and Modernity

Bernardo Buarque de Holanda
The Genealogy of a Defeat: Sporting Memories and the Meaning of the 1950 World Cup for Brazil	105

Markwart Herzog
Win Globally – Party Locally: The “Miracle of Berne” and Its Local Reception	125
Torbjörn Andersson
The 1958 World Cup in Sweden: Between Modernity and Idyll	142
Brenda Elsey
Football at the “End” of the World: The 1962 World Cup	162
World Cups before the "Gold Rush"
Tony Mason
England 1966 and All That	187
Claire and Keith Brewster
“He hath not done this for any other nation”: Mexico’s 1970 and 1986 World Cups	199
Kay Schiller
The 1974 World Cup in West Germany: A Non-Event?	220
Raanan Rein
Football, Politics and Protests: The International Campaign against the 1978 World Cup in Argentina	240
Ángel Bahamonde Magro
The 1982 World Cup: Ambitions of the New Democratic Spain	259

Multiculturalism and Commercialization

Nicola Porro and Francesca Conti
Italia Novanta: "Magic Nights", Globalization and a Country at the Crossroads	279
Joshua H. Nadel
Cup of Welcome? Media, Marketing, Latinos, and the 1994 World Cup	298
Albrecht Sonntag
France 98 – A Watershed World Cup	318
Christian Tagsold
Remember – Forget: The 2002 FIFA World Cup Korea/Japan as Reconciliation of a Dark Past?	337
Thomas Raithel
The German Nation and the 2006 FIFA World Cup	353
Chris Bolsmann
The 2010 World Cup in South Africa A Continental Spectacle?	372
Bibliography	389
Key to Acronyms	403
Notes on Contributors	406