

An Empire of Others

Creating Ethnographic Knowledge in Imperial Russia and the USSR

Edited by

Roland Cvetkovski and Alexis Hofmeister

Central European University Press
Budapest-New York

Table of Contents

Roland Cvetkovski
Introduction: On the Making of Ethnographic Knowledge in Russia 1

Alexis Hofmeister
Imperial Case Studies: Russian and British Ethnographic Theory 23

Part I: Paradigms

Alexei Elfimov
Russian Ethnography as a Science: Truths Claimed, Trails
Followed 51

Marina Mogilner
Beyond, against, and with Ethnography: Physical Anthropology as a Science of Russian Modernity 81

Sergei Alymov
Ethnography, Marxism, and Soviet Ideology 121

Sergey Abashin
Ethnogenesis and Historiography: Historical Narratives for Central Asia in the 1940s and 1950s 145

Part II: Representations

Maike Sach
Symbols, Conventions, and Practices: Visual Representation of Ethnographic Knowledge on Siberia in Early Modern Maps and Reports 171

Roland Cvetkovski Empire Complex: Arrangements in the Russian Ethnographic Museum, 1910	211
Catriona Kelly Learning about the Nation: Ethnographic Representations of Children, Representations of Ethnography for Children	253
Part III: Peoples
Sergey Glebov Siberian Ruptures: Dilemmas of Ethnography in an Imperial Situation	281
Angela Rustemeyer Concepts of Ukrainian Folklore and the Transition from Imperial Russia to Stalin's Soviet Empire	311
Christian Dettmering No Love Affair: Ingush and Chechen Imperial Ethnographies	341
Mikhail Kizilov National Inventions: The Imperial Emancipation of the Karaites from Jewishness	369
List of Contributors	395
Index	401