

Contents

Acknowledgments vii

Introduction: The Theory of Society Talks

Back to Its Travesty 1

MARCEL STOETZLER

PART 1. The Antisemitic Contexts of Sociology's Emergence

1. Durkheim's Sociology and French Antisemitism 45

CHAD ALAN GOLDBERG

2. Sociology's Case for a Well-Tempered Modernity:
Individualism, Capitalism, and the Antisemitic
Challenge 66

MARCEL STOETZLER

3. Fairness as an Impetus for Objective, Scientific Social Research Methods: The Reports about Jewish Traders in the 1887 Usury Enquête of the Verein für Socialpolitik 90

IRMELA GORGES

4. Coldly Admiring the Jews: Werner Sombart and Classical
German Sociology on Nationalism and Race 110

Y. MICHAL BODEMANN

PART 2. Sociology's Reaction to Antisemitism

5. Rereading Marx on the "Jewish Question":
Marx as a Critic of Antisemitism? 137

ROBERT FINE

6. From Assimilationist Antiracism to Zionist Anti-antisemitism: Georg Simmel, Franz Boas, and Arthur Ruppin 160

AMOS MORRIS-REICH

7. The Rise of Sociology, Antisemitism, and the Jewish Question: The American Case 183

RICHARD H. KING

8. Civilization(s), Ethnoracism, Antisemitism, Sociology 206

ROLAND ROBERTSON

PART 3. The Reformulation of Sociology in the Face of Fascist Antisemitism

9. Talcott Parsons's "The Sociology of Modern Anti-Semitism": Anti-antisemitism, Ambivalent Liberalism, and the Sociological Imagination 249

JONATHAN JUDAKEN

10. The Irrationality of the Rational: The Frankfurt School and Its Theory of Society in the 1940s 274

EVA-MARIA ZIEGE

11. Gino Germani, Argentine Sociology, and the Study of Antisemitism 296

DANIEL LVOVICH, TRANSLATED BY LARS STUBBE
AND MARIA VALERIA GALVAN

12. Antisemitism and the Power of Abstraction: From Political Economy to Critical Theory 314

WERNER BONEFELD

13. Conclusion: The Dialectic of Social Science and Worldview 333

DETLEV CLAUSSEN, TRANSLATED BY MARCEL STOETZLER

Contributors 343

Index 345