

Table of contents

I. Introduction . . . . .	7
1. Hannes Grandits, Ulf Brunnbauer The 'Ambiguous Nation. Socialist and Post-Socialist Nation-Building in        Southeastern Europe in Perspective . . . . .	9
2. Holm Sundhaussen Ambiguities of "Natural" and "Artificial" Nations: Introductory Remarks . . . . .	43
II. Power Politics and Nation-Building. . . . .	55
3. Husnija Kamberović Between Muslimdom, Bosniandom, Yugoslavdom and Bosniakdom:        The Political Elite in Bosnia-Herzegovina in the late 1960s and early 1970s . . . . .	57
4. Admir Mulaosmanović The Identity Factory. Agrokomerc and the Population of the Bihacka Krajina . . . . .	77
5. Ala Şveç Explaining Economy in the Transnistrian Regional Identity Project:        A Case Study . . . . .	103
6. Čarna Brković Ambiguous Notions of "National Self" in Montenegro . . . . .	131
III. The Role of Intellectuals . . . . .	151
7. Dženita Sarač Rujanac Constructing the Nationalist Image and Confronting "Muslim nationalists":        The Lawsuit against Muslim Intellectuals in Sarajevo in 1983 . . . . .	153
8. Ermis Lafazanovski The Intellectual as Place of Memory: Krste Petkov Misirkov's Role in the        Macedonian and Moldovan National Movements . . . . .	179
9. Irena Stefoska Nation, Education and Historiographic Narratives: The Case of the        Socialist Republic of Macedonia (1944–1990) . . . . .	195

IV. Contested Memories and Histories . . . . .	231
10. Vladimir Dulović Mount Lovćen and Njegoš between “Aleksandar’s Chapel” and         “Meštrović’s Mausoleum”: Symbolic Orientation and Re-orientation         in Montenegro in the Socialist Era . . . . .	233
11. Gabriela Welch (Re-)Producing Spaces, Deriving Identities: Symbolic Appropriations         of World War Two Commemorations in the Republic of Moldova . . . . .	261
12. Ludmila D. Cojocar “Republica Moldova, Patria Mea!” The Moldovan Nation-Building Project         in Search of Reification and Legitimacy . . . . .	283
13. Saša Nedeljković Local Memory and Identity Strategies of Montenegrin Immigrants in the Village         of Lovćenac in Vojvodina . . . . .	307
V. The Nation in Popular Culture and Arts . . . . .	329
14. Ivona Opetcheska Tatarcheska Dance Culture and National Identity Politics in the Republic of Macedonia . . . . .	331
15. Rozita Dimova The Poet in the “Biblical” Land: Etatisation of Art and Art Festivals in the         Republic of Macedonia . . . . .	353
16. Lidija Vujačić Building a Country’s Image Through Popular Culture: How Carnival Festivities         and Music Events Have Redefined the Image of Montenegro . . . . .	371
VI. Significations of the Nation . . . . .	389
17. Virgiliu Bîrlădeanu From Bessarabia to the Republic of Moldova: Inventing, Constructing and         Imagining National Spaces . . . . .	391
18. Iva Lučić Making the “Nation” Visible: Socialist Census Policy in Bosnia         in the early 1970s . . . . .	423
19. Žarko Trajanoski “National” Flags in the Republic of Macedonia . . . . .	449
Contributors . . . . .	479