

Thomas M. Bohn, Rayk Einax, Michel Abeßer (eds.)

De-Stalinisation reconsidered

Persistence and Change in the Soviet Union

Campus Verlag
Frankfurt/New York

Content

Introduction

From Stalinist Terror to Collective Constraints. 'Homo Sovieticus' and the 'Soviet People' after Stalin Thomas M. Bohn, Rayk Einax, Michel Abeßer	11
--	----

De-Stalinisation and Politics

What's in a Name? De-Stalinisation and the End of the Soviet Union Stephen V. Bittner	31
--	----

Soviet History after 1953. Stalinism under Repair Stefan Plaggenborg	43
--	----

Political Communication under Khrushchev. Did the Basic Modes Really Change after Stalin's Death? Stephan Merl	65
---	----

A 'Merciless Struggle'. De-Stalinisation and the 1957 Clampdown on Dissent Robert Hornsby	93
--	----

De-Stalinisation as Modernisation

'Closed Cities' versus 'Open Society'? The Interaction of De-Stalinisation and Urbanisation Thomas M. Bohn	115
---	-----

‘A Question of Honour’. Socialist Welfare State versus the Stalinist Apparatus of Repression Galina Ivanova	133
Much Ado About De-Stalinisation? The Belorussian Soviet Republic 1953–1965 Rayk Einax	145
De-Stalinising Economic Administration. The Alternative Version in Ukraine (1953–1965) Nataliya Kibita	161
De-Stalinisation and Social Communities
Contesting Inequality. Khrushchev and the Revival of the ‘Woman Question’ Melanie Ilic	177
De-Stalinisation and Socialist Realism. The Union of Soviet Writers in the Period of the Thaw Maria Zesjina	193
Shortcomings. Soviet Journalists and the Changing Role of Press Criticism after the 20 th Party Congress Simon Huxtable	209
Staging a Cultured Community. Soviet Jazz after 1953 Michel Abeßer	223
Public Sentiments in the USSR 1953–1968. Eyewitness Reminiscences and Retrospective Interviews Yuri Aksyutin	239

Conclusion

Taking Stock of the Khrushchev Era

Dietmar Neufatz..... 251

Bibliography 263

List of Contributors 273