

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction	1
The “Miracle” of Germany’s Reconstruction	5
The Foundations of Postwar Thought: The Weimar Republic and Its Discontents	11
Émigrés and the American Cold War: Knowledge and Power	17
Chapter I: The Search for “Responsible Elites”: Carl J. Friedrich and the Reform of Higher Education	25
Protestant Legitimacy and Elite Education in Heidelberg	28
The Heidelberg Mission in the United States: The Creation of a New American Academia	45
Cold War Universities: “Responsible Elites” in Cold War United States and Germany	56
Chapter II: Socialist Reform, the Rule of Law, and Labor Outreach: Ernst Fraenkel and the Concept of “Collective Democracy”	76
Democracy, Labor, and Law in Frankfurt and Berlin	79
Social Democracy and U.S. Power: Fraenkel in the United States and Korea	89
The German Left and the Cold War	107
Chapter III: Conservative Catholicism and American Philanthropy: Waldemar Gurian, “Personalist” Democracy, and Anti-communism	120
Catholicism, “Personalism,” and Democracy in the Rhineland: The Origins of Gurian’s Thought	122
The Path to the “Theory of Totalitarianism”: The Personalist Campaign against Nazism in Exile	134
Personalism and American Philanthropy: Transatlantic Democracy and Anti-communism	144
Chapter IV: Individual Liberties and “Militant Democracy”: Karl Loewenstein and Aggressive Liberalism	169
The Internal Struggle of Liberal Democracy	172
“Militant Democracy” and U.S. Diplomacy in Latin America	181

"Militant Democracy" in the Cold War: Liberalism and Anti-communism in West Germany	198
Chapter V: From the League of Nations to Vietnam: Hans J. Morgenthau and Realist Reform of International Relations	211
International Politics, Law, and War	213
Morgenthau and the Cold War Establishment	225
Power and Morality: Opposition to the Intervention in Vietnam	237
Conclusion	256
List of Abbreviations	263
List of Archives	265
Index	267