

Contents

---

List of contributors	vii
Foreword Dwight H. Perkins	xvii
Acknowledgements	xxii
1 Introduction François Gipouloux	1
PART I THE INSTITUTIONAL FOUNDATIONS OF URBANIZATION IN CHINA
2 The city creation process in China François Gipouloux and Li Shantong	21
3 Central–local relations in Chinese urbanization: the case of Chongqing Pu Yongjian and Xiong Ailun	35
4 Public ownership of land and urbanization in China Athar Hussain and Gong Wei	49
5 China's hukou reform and new urbanization blueprint Kam Wing Chan	72
6 Snail without a shell: migrant workers' difficult path towards urban housing Chi-Han Ai, Miguel Elosua and Sébastien Goulard	84
PART II ENVIRONMENTAL AND SOCIAL INFRASTRUCTURES IN URBAN AREAS
7 The 'eco' and 'low-carbon' promise: a critical review of China's experience Luis Balula and Olivia Bina	103
8 Choices between development and environmental preservation in Huangshan City Chen Hongfeng and Wang Jingya	121

9	Social security reform and its impact on urbanization: the case of Shanghai Yuan Zhigang and Tan Jing	134
10	Implementation of new social housing programmes: the case of Shanghai and Chongqing Miguel Elosua and Ni Pengfei	150
PART III HERITAGE PRESERVATION, TRADITIONS AND MODERN LIFESTYLES IN CHINESE CITIES
11	Historic urban landscapes in Shanghai: the challenging path from recognition to innovation and appropriation within an accelerated socio-economic context Françoise Ged and Shao Yong	171
12	The challenge of brownfield rehabilitation: a case study of Dadukou District, Chongqing Chi-Han Ai and Oriane Pillet	183
13	The formation of governmental community and the closure of housing classes Stephan Feuchtwang, Zhang Hui and Paula Morais	195
PART IV REGIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL COMPETITIVENESS OF CHINESE MEGA-CITIES
14	Fiscal constraints and their impact on financing urbanization: the case of Kunming Hu Ying	215
15	The evolutionary process of Shanghai's rise to a global city: dynamic dialectics of localization and globalization Du Debin, Huang Li and Xu Wei	229
	Bibliography	254
	Index	279