

Contents

1	Introduction: The Crisis Paradigm	1
	References	25
2	Georg Lukács: Rationality and Crisis	31
	2.1 Lukács and the First World War	33
	2.2 Capitalism as a Permanent Crisis	37
	References	57
3	Reinhard Koselleck: Demoralizing Crisis	61
	3.1 The Crisis Generations	63
	3.2 The Crisis of Absolutism and the Pathology of Enlightenment	73
	3.3 Koselleck's Critics	91
	References	100
4	Hannah Arendt: Crisis as Modernity's Choice	105
	4.1 Crisis as Worldlessness	106
	4.2 Totalitarianism and General Crisis	119

4.3 Re-imagining the Political References	134 148
5 Jürgen Habermas: With and Against the Crisis Paradigm	153
5.1 Legitimation Crisis	154
5.2 Crisis After Metaphysics	176
5.3 Crisis as a Public Concept References	190 202
6 Conclusion	207
References	219
Bibliography	223
Index	237