

Contents

Acknowledgments	IX
List of Figures	XII
Abbreviations	XIV
Contributors	XV

Introduction	1
Karin Priem and Frederik Herman

PART 1

Modeling Subjectivities

- 1 Machines, Masses, and Metaphors: The Visual Making of Industrial Work(ers) in Interwar Luxembourg 35
Ira Plein
- 2 Photography as a Space for Constructing Subjectivities: Luxembourg's Steel Dynasties and the Modern Workforce as Seen through the Glass Plate Negatives from the Institut Emile Metz 58
Françoise Poos
- 3 Buddhism, Business, and Red-Cross Diplomacy: Aline Mayrisch de Saint-Hubert's Journeys to East Asia in the Interwar Period 79
Klaus Dittrich

PART 2

Mapping Bodies and Senses

- 4 "Sensuous Geographies" in the "Age of Steel": Educating Future Workers' Bodies in Time and Space (1900–1940) 111
Karin Priem and Frederik Herman
- 5 The Eye of the Machine: Labor Sciences and the Mechanical Registration of the Human Body 138
Frederik Herman and Karin Priem

PART 3

Engineering Social Change

- 6 Germs, Bodies, and Selves: Tuberculosis, Social Government, and the Promotion of Health-Conscious Behavior in the Early Twentieth Century 169
Enric Novella
- 7 Transatlantic Iron Connections: Education, Emotion, and the Making of a Productive Workforce in Minas Gerais, Brazil (ca. 1910–1960) 193
Irma Hadzalic
- 8 Requiem for Gary: Cultivating Wasteland in and beyond the “Age of Steel” 219
Angelo Van Gorp
- Illustration Credits 241
- Index 243