

Contents

Conventions	vii
Introduction The Rise and Growth of a Global “Moral Empire”: The YMCA and YWCA during the Late Nineteenth and Early Twentieth Centuries Harald Fischer-Tiné, Stefan Huebner, and Ian Tyrrell	1
Part I. The Origins of the YMCA’s and YWCA’s Social Work in Asia: The Social Gospel and Local Interpretations
1 Vectors of Practicality: Social Gospel, the North American YMCA in Asia, and the Global Context Ian Tyrrell	39
2 Proximity, Progress, and the YMCA in Early Twentieth-Century Asia, 1902–1912 Lou Antolihao	61
3 The Japanese YMCA, Christian Masculinities, and Japan’s Colonization of Korea, 1905–1919 Dolf-Alexander Neuhaus	80
4 The YMCA’s Message of Public Health and Masculinity, 1910s–1920s: Transnational Impacts of the Physical Education Programs in China, the Philippines, and Japan Stefan Huebner	99
5 Mediating Modern Motherhood: The Shanghai YWCA’s “Women’s Work for Women,” 1908–1949 Margaret Mih Tillman	119

Part II. The YMCA and Internationalism after World War I:
The Attempts to Integrate Eastern Europe
into a Global Civil Society

- 6 Returning “Genuine Faith” to Modernity: The Academic YMCA
in Interwar Czechoslovakia
Ondřej Matějka 147
- 7 For the “Youth of a Great Nation”: The American YMCA
and Nation Building in Greater Romania in the Interwar Period
Doina Anca Cretu 169

Part III. The YMCA and American Society: Inculcating White Protestant Middle-Class Values

- 8 The Idiom of Modernity and the Construction of the Native
Speaker: YMCA Language Instruction at Home and Abroad
Lance Cummings 193
- 9 Building a “Modern” “American” “Indian”:
The Legacy of Y-Indian Guides, 1926–1995
Paul Hillmer and Ryan Bean 211

Part IV. The Aftermath of Fascism and World War II:
The YMCA’s Social Work in Cold War Africa

- 10 Education for Leadership: The YMCA in Late Imperial Ethiopia, 1940s–1970s
Katrin Bromber 237
- Contributors 259
- Index 263