

the complex relationship between the rulers, the officers, and the ruled.

An international conference held at the German Historical Institute in London in November 2017 laid the groundwork for this volume. It assembled scholars from Britain, Germany, France, Spain, Portugal, the United States, and Italy and was generously funded by the Fritz Thyssen Foundation. I am grateful to the conference convenors, Hannes Ziegler (then GHI London, now Munich) and María Ángeles Martín Romera (then University College London, now Madrid), for leading the creative process of making the conference presentations into a well-rounded book. The GHIL's Angela Davies and Emily Richards expertly edited the essays and smoothed the manuscript's passage through the production process. I want to thank them as much as Oxford University Press staff and delegates, and of course the anonymous peer reviewers whose instructive comments helped improve the final outcome.

Christina von Hodenberg

London
April 2021

Contents

1. Local Communities and Central Officers: The Rise of Public Accountability I
MARÍA ÁNGELES MARTÍN ROMERA AND HANNES ZIEGLER
2. 'Testify against Me': The Use of Biblical Exegesis in Holding the Bishop to Account in Thirteenth-Century England 25
PHILIPPA BYRNE
3. The Emperor between Person and Institution: Officer, Office, and Accountability in Dante's Imperial Thinking 53
JOHN SABAPATHY
4. The Prince, his Officer, and the Community: How Secular Inquisitorial Procedures Brought against Officers Contributed to Community-Building in the Thirteenth-Century Comtat Venaissin 77
LAURE VERDON
5. Rules, Norms, and Instructions for the Venetian rettori in the Subject Dominions: Between Central Authority and Local Communities (Thirteenth to Fifteenth Centuries) 99
ALESSANDRA RIZZI
6. Purga de taula and Other Procedures of Royal Officers' Accountability in the Medieval Crown of Aragon (Fourteenth Century) 133
ALEXANDRA BEAUCHAMP

7. The Will of the Town: Popular Politics and the Control of Local Governments in Late Medieval Castile 153
HIPÓLITO RAFAEL OLIVA HERRER
8. Royal Judicial Officials Held to Account by Local Communities in Early Sixteenth-Century Portugal: Fact or Fiction? 177
ADELAIDE COSTA
9. Controlling Officials: Judicial and Administrative Practices in Early Modern Italian States 201
MARCO BELLABARBA
10. People and Sergeants: Accountability and the Co-Construction of Order in Early Modern Paris (Sixteenth to Seventeenth Centuries) 225
DIANE ROUSSEL
11. War Administration: Subjects, Local Officers, and the Contribution System in the Thirty Years War 251
JOHANNES KRAUS
12. Empowered Citizens and Questioned Officers: A Social and Anthropological Perspective on the juicios de residencia in Spain (Fifteenth to Seventeenth Centuries) 273
MARÍA ÁNGELES MARTÍN ROMERA
13. The Spanish visita Procedure as a Social Phenomenon 299
SÉBASTIEN MALAPRADE
14. Customs Officers and Local Communities: Informing in Late Seventeenth-Century England 325
HANNES ZIEGLER

15. Petition Campaigns and Public Order: Negotiating Administrative Accountability in Early Eighteenth-Century Germany 349
NIELS GRÜNE
- Notes on Contributors* 371
- Index* 373