Questo volume è stato finanziato con il contributo del Dipartimento di Scienze dell’Educazione “Giovanni Maria Bertin” dell’Alma Mater Studiorum – Università di Bologna / This volume was financed by the contribution of the Department of Education Studies “Giovanni Maria Bertin”, Alma Mater Studiorum – University of Bologna.

Copyright © 2022, Clueb
Opera pubblicata in modalità Open Access con licenza Creative Commons Attribuzione 4.0 (CC BY).

Immagine di copertina / Cover image: Inaugurazione dell’asilo nido di Viserba, 13 ottobre 1979 (Archivio fotografico D. Minghini, © Biblioteca civica Gambalunga-Rimini). Si ringrazia Nadia Bizzocchi per il permesso di pubblicazione. / Inauguration of the day nursery in Viserba, 13 October 1979 (Photographic Archive D. Minghini, © Biblioteca civica Gambalunga-Rimini, Italy). The Editor and the Publisher thank Nadia Bizzocchi for the authorization to publish.

Clueb
via Marsala, 31 – 40126 Bologna info@clueb.it – www.clueb.it

Summary

Dorena Caroli, Introduction................................................................. 7

PART I
Catherine Bouve, De la garde à l’accueil. Les crèches françaises de 1945 à 1993, au carrefour d’une redéfinition de leurs normes politiques, sociales et pédagogiques ........................................... 23
Claudine Mariassal, Les crèches en Belgique, un service collectif dans la tourmente du genre (19e–début 21e siècle) .................. 49

PART II
Johannes Westberg, The Rise of a Universal and Integrated Pre-school Sector in Sweden .......................................................... 69
Tora Korsvold, Education and Care Services for Young Children in Norway. From Private Initiative to State Intervention ............ 93

PART III
Diana Frake-Meyer, The History of Crèches in Germany from 1945 to the Present Day................................................................. 121
Janet de Vigne, ‘Why Should I Get a Degree to do a Minimum Wage Job?’ ECEC in Scotland, Past and Present ............................ 159

PART IV
Carmen Sánchez-BLANCO, From Care to Education in the Spanish Nurseries for Children Aged 0 to 3 Years (1990–2020) .......... 177
David Salomón, Childhood and Pre-School Education in Portugal. Between Estado novo, Democracy, and Future Challenges (1945–today) ............................................................ 213
Introduction
Dorena Caroli

Over the past thirty years, the history of early childhood educational institutions, now known at the European level as early childhood education and care (ECEC) institutions, has been the subject of numerous studies that have given rise to new historiographical trends. Some are interested in European education policies and social changes that have affected Europe at the beginning of the new millennium, others in the function that these institutions have in the welfare and education systems of different countries or in the role that these institutions have played in family policies.

The birth and development of this historiography seem to have been marked by some important legislative acts, such as the United Nations Declaration of the Rights of the Child (1959). Thanks to the work of Philippe Ariès¹, which reflected on the evolution of the idea of childhood as a cultural construct in relation to the structure of the family and social classes, new studies have investigated unknown aspects and chapters of the history of childhood, its culture and educational institutions. Among the first published studies after the Convention on the Rights of the Child (1989), which was an important impetus for the development of this field of research², are those by Cathérine Rollet, Edward C. Melhuish and Peter Moss that highlighted the international perspectives of a research that was taking its first steps in the early nineties³.

At the European level, other important and innovative studies have also followed, such as that by Hugh Cunningham, who offered a very signifi-

---