

Contents

List of Illustrations — IX

Kerstin Barndt and Stephan Jaeger

Introduction: Museums, Narratives, and Critical Histories — 1

Part I: Narrative Theory and Temporality

Amy Sodaro

“Feeling Truth”: Objects, Embodiment, and Temporality in the National Museum of African American History and Culture (Washington, DC) and the Legacy Museum (Montgomery, Alabama) — 25

Ingvild Hagen Kjørholt

Reading Museum Narratives: A Narratological Approach to the Holocaust Exhibitions at the Jewish Museum Trondheim and the Oslo Jewish Museum — 45

Daniel Morat

The Telling of Many Stories: Multivocality and Pluritemporality in Berlin Global at the Humboldt Forum — 65

Sanna-Mari Niemi

Museum Objects as Clues in Fictional Detective Stories: Story-led Art Exhibitions Helsinki Noir – A Crime to Solve and Before the Night – Tornio Noir as Case Studies — 75

Jana Hawig

Narrating Grief: The Storytelling Strategy and its Immersive Potential in Pia Says Goodbye (Dortmund) — 95

Radmila Švaříčková Slabáková

Sounds, Narrative, and Emotions in Historical Exhibitions: The Case of the Museum of the Slovak National Uprising in Banská Bystrica — 115

Part II: Ruptures and Repair

Emma Bond

Acts of Rupture and Repair: Staging Post-Critical Re-Readings of Colonial Histories in V&A Dundee through Contemporary Art — 131

Farai Mudododzi Chabata and Jesmael Mataga

Beyond the De-Colonial: Rethinking the Future of Museums in Africa — 151

Rowan Light

Baring our Teeth: Narratives of Colonial Conflict at the Auckland War Memorial Museum Tāmaki Paenga Hira — 167

Anne Schäfer

The Art of Decolonizing the Museum: Implementing Sámi Ontology and Storytelling at the Sámi Museum in Karasjok through Sámi Artwork — 187

Jimena Perry

Revisiting Grand Narratives at the National Museum of Colombia: Striving for Inclusion and Diversity — 207

M. Elizabeth Weiser

Celebrating Bad Times: The Epideictic Work of Museums of Racial Trauma — 221

Part III: Difficult Memories and Histories

Mark W. Rectanus

Narrative Spaces of Conflict and Social Repair: The Conflictorium and Museum of Conflict (Ahmedabad) — 245

Florencia Larralde Armas and Julieta Lampasona

Clandestine Captivity, Testimony, and Construction of Truth in a Memory Site: Narrative Strategies and Memory Work at the ESMA Site Museum's Permanent Exhibition (Buenos Aires) — 265

Rachel Christ-Doane

Finding Meaning in Tragedy: A Critical Reflection of Audience Engagement at the Salem Witch Museum — 277

Marija Đorđević and Stefan Krankenhagen

“Use Me, When Needed Again”: Performing Heritage at Monuments of the Yugoslav Era — 289

Selma Čatović Hughes, Ena Kukić, and Sabina Tanović

Uncementing Narratives: Memorial Architecture as a Way to Support Intergenerational Remembrance and Contest Dominant Memory Politics in Sarajevo — 303

Maria Kobielska

Narrative and Resilience: Museum Exhibitions under Forced Change – A Case Study of the Museum of the Second World War in Gdańsk — 317

Notes on Contributors — 337

Index — 343